- Regarding the Soviet reciprocity issue: Congress is pushing to append a bill to the authorization bill which is unacceptable. Some quarters are pressuring the Secretary of State to write a letter to the SSCI, saying that he agrees with the principle of reciprocity but suggests that the Congress not push this legislation, but give the Administration time to come up with a better position. Hugh Montgomery does not believe the Secretary should write such a letter, and notes that this item will be on your luncheon agenda for discussion on Friday. Meanwhile, if this is unresolved, you might want to mention at an upcoming SIG(I) that concern about this issue continues and that the State Department might want to consider something along the lines of the Leahy proposal.

- Regarding the SIG(I), we could probably profitably hold one sometime before the DDCI's upcoming trip to discuss the paper [ ] the draft NSDD on communications security (General Stillwell has requested such a discussion), NSDD 84, and possibly the CIPC study on narcotics.

- IG file review in response to Shannon Resolution shows no CIA connection with Salvadorean death squads.
- Review Wednesday's session with Program Managers and your suggested strategy regarding cuts.
- See Tab C for draft NSDD on readiness to respond to developments in Iran-Iraq and for comments that we provided. A new version is reportedly being worked on. We have no information regarding when that will be out or when a meeting might be held to review it.

- Eloise should be forwarding a paper sometime today or tomorrow with suggestions regarding leaks.
- Status of terrorism legislation: On 4 April there was a meeting at the White House on this topic. DDCI provided the wording suggested by Stan Sporkin to identify what "persons" would be subject to this bill. Advised that DDCI could not vote Casey's stock but emphasized that if a bill were considered necessary, DDCI would insist on this wording. The end result was that Justice and State insisted on a bill, included Sporkin's wording, and insured that the legislation would be replete with references noting that the bill would not apply to U.S. government employees performing official functions.
